WEDNESDAY,.....JAN. 5, 1876.

VISALIA has a daily. The Tulare Times is issued six times a week, the arrangement to hold during the session of Congress and as much longer as patronage will warrant.

IF, as an exchange insists, a hypocrite of any sort is a curse and a disgrace to his species, it is sad to contemplate how numerously the species are cursed and disgraced in every community.

Some of our cotemporaries are loud in the demand for the banging of a few of the stage robbers. We endorse | vor of the job, would ever be re-electthe proposition and amend by suggest- ed, and every supporter of the outrage ing that the rule extend to and include the crooked whisky rascals and other Government defaulters. They are stealing more in a week than the stage robbers steal in forty years.

Some time ago San Francisco, which opposed Governor IRWIN'S nomination, feared that he would select his appointees from the country. She, however, received her proportion, but Southern California, where nearly every county gave him a handsome majority, has not, so far as we have heard, received a single appointment.

JAMES ANTHONY, a pioneer of this State and one of the proprietors of the Sacramento Union, died in San Francisco yesterday evening. Mr. ANTHO-NY was one of the noted men of California, for, we believe, twenty years he directed the policy of the Union, and it was under his superior management that it assumed, and for years maintained the position of the leading Journal of the State. After the sale through short lived competition the ring the past two years of financial and suspension of the Union he located in San Francisco where he resided up to the time of his death.

THE midnight centennial celebration in San Francisco was not a success. Long before the hour for bonper consequence small, proportion of that city's citizens were wrapped in always enhance the profits of the corblankets and the arms of Morpheus, and when awakened by the uproar raised by those who would not have gone to bed had the Mayor not given them permission to remain up, they in the management of the Texas Pa- on Northern territory. took no part in the patriotic exercises beyond seeing that their doors were locked and their money and jewels

AND away goes another large sum of the people's money. After expending about $150,000 on the Chicago custom house the government has been compelled to stop the work on account of the d scovery of glaring frauds in the contracts. The work now done will be so much dead loss, and the money expended is a simple transfer of so much coin from the public funds to the coffers of a few knaves. How long will the tax-payers of the nation submit to these wholesale robberies? For years they have been of almost daily occurrence. Millions of dollars have been stolen, and yet we are told that the administration of our governmental affairs is honest and economical.

SINCE Saturday night, according to the rain gauge of Mr. O. H. BLISS, on Alameda street, one and forty-onehundredths of an inch of rain has fallen in this valley. This gives us a total fall for the season of nearly nine inches-an abundance up to date to insure a prosperous year. Between now and the middle of April or first of May we may reasonably expect to have from five to seven inches more of rain, and either amount will insure ample crops. The farmers correctly anticipate an abundant harvest, and all evince a determination to improve the occasion by seeding all the ground possible. It is estimated that the acreage of tilled land in this valley this season will exceed by one-third that of any previous year.

The Southern Pacific Road.

In another column of this paper we print a letter from C. P. HUNTINGTON to the Railroad Gazette, in which, as the agent and attorney of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, he defines the conditions on which that company offer to extend their road Eastward until it shall meet and connect with some Southern road reaching Westward from the Atlantic side. The wide difference between the proposition of the Southern Pacific Company and the demand of the Texas Pacific Company is set forth by the Chicago Tribune in clear and explicit language, as follows: "The Southern Pacific is ready to build a trans-continental road along the thirty-second parallel, if Congress will give it the original grant of 1871 to Tom Scott's company-the right of way and twenty sections of land per mile. a correspondent, describing the convention at St. Louis, in speaking of the Southern Pacific Railroad, calls it

"a branch of the Central Pacific;" and in your editorial correction I see some points which will themselves bear cora distinct road, extending Southeast-ward toward the mouth of the Colorado river, where it will, if extended,

meet the route of the Texas and Pacific at Fort Yuma, 772 miles from nowhere touches the Central Pacific,' which is a mistake, "and is neither

ed, is liable to give a wrong impres-

They realize, moreover, as business men, that whatever tends to build up and populate that coast helps the existing road more than it hurts. Inasmuch as 65 per cent, of the gross receipts of the Central Pacific, and consequently a still larger percentage of its net earnings, is derived from local trafic, and, as the real competition from through business is, and must be, not from another overland railroad, but from the water carriage, via the Isthmus of Panama and Cape Horn, which long ago cut down the through rates close upon the actual cost of transportation, they knew that a second road will add more to

The Southern Pacific, like the Central Pacific Company, have hitherto regarded their field of operations as belonging exclusively to the Pacific water-shed of the continent, and have resolutely abstained from any participation in any roads in the Mississippi valley or Eastern connections. lengthens or interferes with the more Northerly forks. At the California end the line is already provided with a short connection with San Francisco, the great port and emporium of that coast, and also with the port of Wilmington on San Pedro Bay, a point 500 miles South-east of San Francisco, and by far the nearest harbor, by rail, to the Gulf. Nothing better or more suitable to the commerce of the country need be desired. But if Congress, in its superior judgment, determines to include also the harbor of San Diego, in the extreme South-west corner of our frontier, as one of the termini of this Pacific Railroad, I am authorized to state, after careful surveys by their engineers, that this can be best done by a branch line, which the Southern Pacific Railroad Company will also undertake to construct, with reasonable time, upon the same terms and conditions as the central portion of the line. Legislative News. SACRAMENTO, Jan. 4 .- Yesterday

McConnell of Committee on Federal Relations, introduced a series of resolutions in the Assembly relating to the Federal Gov't which are of a national political character. The preamble sets forth that it is the right and duty of the people of a State to keep a constant vigilant watch upon the proceedings of the Federal Gov't. The first resolution sets forth that the Gov't of the United States is one of granted and strictly limited powers, SINGING. the measure of which is the letter of the Constitution; the second condemns the invasion of the Halls of the Louisiana Legislature by an armed force under the direction of an officer of the United States army. The third recommends an investigation into the acts of corruption by the Federal Gov't by Congress. The fourth recognizes the 13th, 14th and 15th amendments as the legitimate result of the war, as permanent parts of the fundamental law, but opposing the division of the school fund from its legitimate destination and associating the wisdom of various States to amend that organic law and to prevent any such division, but deprecating all attempts to thrust the school question into federal politics, or making it an amendment in the federal constitution. The sixth favors taxation of church property, but makes it a matter of State concern alone. The seventh strongly depreciates the intro-duction of religious questions into politics, and asserts nothing with danger to peace and quiet of the country, and the happiness and liberty of the people as an alliance between religious passion and political opinions and interests, and that it is the duty of every citizen to labor to prevent the coalition between, which we have every reason to believe, will be attempted at the next Presidential election. The eighth favors a return to specie payment and maintaining that only material fitted for a circulating medium are the precious metals. The ninth favors a return to advalorem duties and against the protection to special interest. The tenth is aimed against Chinese immigration in the form of Asiatic slavery. The eleventh provides for the transmission of these resolutions to the President and members of the Cabinet, to Judges schooners, appeared in the river, each of the Supreme Court of the United county, the features of which are substitution of money for labor and making Supervisors ex-officios.

It is simple, strong, durable and cheap, light and rapid running, doing all the different varieties of sewing from the finest fabric to the heaviest cloth or leather.
